Malabar Rebellion leaders to be removed from India's dictionary of martyrs: Report

- Variyamkunnath Kunjahammed Haji and Ali Musailiar, popular leaders of the Malabar Rebellion, along with 387 other leaders of the pre-independence agitation, are set to be removed from the 'Dictionary of Martyrs of India's Freedom Struggle', jointly published by the Ministry of Culture, Government of India and Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR). The decision came after review of a three member panel, which reportedly stated that the Malabar Rebellion was not an independence struggle but focused on 'religious conversion'.
- The Malabar Rebellion, also known as Moplah Rebellion or Mappila Rebellion, which took place in 1921 has been acknowledged as a freedom struggle against the British by the Kerala government, while a section including right wing parties, consider the agitation communal in nature. Last year, the state witnessed a heated debate over the 1921 agitation after Malayalam filmmaker Aashiq Abu and actor Prithviraj said that they were coming up with a new film on Variyamkunnath Kunjahammed Haji.
- The names which were included as entries in the fifth volume of the Dictionary of Martyrs of India's Freedom Struggle, were reviewed by a three-member committee, which recommended the ouster of the names. The committee is reported to have observed that Variyamkunnath Kunjahammed Haji was not a freedom fighter, but a 'rioter' who established a 'Sharia court'. It is also reported to have said that many leaders of the Malabar Rebellion died due to various diseases and hence cannot be considered as 'martyrs'. Variyamkunnath Kunjahammed Haji was however executed by the British.
- The Malabar Rebellion (also called the Mappila or Moplah Rebellion by the British) broke out in the southern taluks of Malabar in August 1921. By the time the government troops captured Haji in January 1922, the rebellion had fizzled out. It largely took the shape of guerrilla-type attacks on janmis (feudal landlords, who were mostly upper caste Hindus) and the police and troops.

August 20, 2021, marks the centenary of the Malabar rebellion, which is also known as the Moplah (Muslim) riots. It had been an uprising of Muslim tenants against British rulers and local Hindu landlords. The uprising, which began on August 20, 1921, went on for several months marked by many bouts of bloodstained events. Some historical accounts state the uprising led to the loss of around 10,000 lives, including 2,339 rebels. The Khilafat movement launched in 1919 provided a fresh stimulus to the grievances of Mappilas. Now their sense of local injustice was sought to be linked with the pan-Islamic sentiments created in the aftermath of the collapse of the Ottoman Empire that rendered the Ottoman caliphate irrelevant. Haji was among those in the Malabar region inspired by the zeal of the agitation. The Lord Reading was Viceroy of India during the time Malabar Rebellion occurred in 1921

Finance minister Sitharaman launched National Monetisation Pipeline

- The government unveiled a four-year National Monetisation Pipeline (NMP) worth Rs 6 lakh crore to unlock value in brownfield projects by engaging the private sector, transferring to them the rights but not the ownership in projects; and using the funds for infrastructure creation across the country.
- Roads, railways and power sector assets will comprise over 66 per cent of the total estimated value of the assets to be monetised, with the balance coming from sectors including telecom, mining, aviation, ports, natural gas and petroleum product pipelines, warehouses and stadiums. “The ownership of the assets remain with the Government (and) there should be mandatory handback,” the Finance Minister highlighted.
- Union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman launched the National Monetisation pipeline (NMP), which will list out the government’s infrastructure assets to be sold over the next four-years.
- Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said monetisation will create further value for infrastructure creation in the country and explore innovative ways of private participation without transfer of government ownership. “There is no land here, this entire (NMP) is talking about brownfield projects where investments have already been made, where there is a completed asset which is either languishing or it is not fully monetised or is under-utilised. So by bringing in private participation in this, you will be able to monetise it better and ensure further investment in infrastructure building,” she said.
- The NMP will run co-terminus with the National Infrastructure Pipeline of Rs 100 lakh crore announced in December 2019. The estimated amount to be raised through monetisation is around 14 per cent of the proposed outlay for Centre of Rs 43 lakh crore under NIP.
- NITI Aayog Vice Chairman Rajiv Kumar said infrastructure growth in India will be private sector-led and “this is the next step in mobilising private capital” without transferring ownership to private corporations or resorting to fire sale of assets.
- The top five sectors in terms of value capture around 83 per cent of the aggregate pipeline value, with roads covering 27 per cent, followed by railways 25 per cent, power 15 per cent, oil & gas pipelines 8 per cent and telecom 6 per cent. In terms of annual phasing by value, 15 per cent of assets with an indicative value of Rs 88,000 crore are envisaged to be rolled out in the current financial year.

In a monetisation transaction, the government is basically transferring revenue rights to private parties for a specified transaction period in return for upfront money, a revenue share, and commitment of investments in the assets. Real Estate Investment Trusts (Reits) and Infrastructure Investment Trusts (Invits), for instance, are the key structures used to monetise assets in the roads and power sectors. These are also listed on stock exchanges, providing investors liquidity through secondary markets as well. While these are a structured financing vehicle, other monetisation models on PPP (Public Private Partnership) basis include: Operate Maintain Transfer (OMT), Toll Operate Transfer (TOT), and Operations, Maintenance & Development (OMD). Greenfield Investment refers to investment in a manufacturing, office, or other physical company-related structure or group of structures in an area where no previous facilities exist. Brownfield investment term is used for purchasing or leasing existing production facilities to launch a new production activity. The projects which are modified or upgraded are called brownfield projects.

Indian researchers discover three supermassive black holes

- Indian researchers have discovered three supermassive black holes from three galaxies merging together to form a triple active galactic nucleus (AGN), that has a much-higher-than-normal luminosity. The rare occurrence in the nearby universe indicates that small merging groups are ideal laboratories to detect multiple accreting supermassive black holes and increases the possibility of detecting such occurrences.
- Supermassive black holes are difficult to detect because they do not emit any light, but can reveal their presence by interacting with their surroundings. When the dust and gas from the surroundings fall onto a supermassive black hole, some of the mass is swallowed by the black hole, but some of it is converted into energy and emitted as electromagnetic radiation that makes the black hole appear very luminous.
- A team of researchers from the Indian Institute of Astrophysics came upon the rare occurrence while studying a known interacting galaxy pair, NGC7733, and NGC7734. The researchers detected unusual emissions from the centre of NGC7734 and a large, bright clump along the northern arm of NGC7733. As they dug deeper, they found that the clump is moving with a different velocity compared to the galaxy NGC7733 itself indicating that it was not part of the galaxy instead it was a small separate galaxy behind the arm.
- Led by a team comprising Jyoti Yadav, Mousumi Das, and Sudhanshu Barway from the Indian Institute of Astrophysics, researchers used data from the Ultra-Violet Imaging Telescope (UVIT) onboard the first Indian space observatory ASTROSAT, the European integral field optical telescope called MUSE mounted on the Very Large Telescope (VLT) in Chile and infrared images from the optical telescope (IRSF) in South Africa.
- “The UV and H-alpha images also supported the presence of the third galaxy by revealing star formation along with the tidal tails, which could have formed from the merger of NGC7733N with the larger galaxy,” researchers said in a statement. The IIA team explains that if the two galaxies collide, their black hole will also come closer by transferring the kinetic energy to the surrounding gas. The distance between the black holes decreases with time until the separation is around a parsec (3.26 light-years).
